

Reader/Lector at Sunday Mass

Are you a good reader? Do you have a flair for the stage, and like being in front of a crowd? This may be for you! The Lector processes up with the Book of Gospels, and then reads the first and second readings of the day, as well as the prayers of the faithful.

Readers can obtain the readings ahead of time to practice if they wish. Also individuals pick the mass they would like to read at, as well as which weekend. If time is not too much of an issue, lectors can be put on a rotating schedule. It's pretty flexible.
